FUNDREVIEW

A DETAILED REVIEW FOR CHELSEA INVESTORS

INTRODUCTION

Welcome to Fund Review. The Chelsea research team carry out extensive fund research, conducting one-to-one interviews with fund managers. We grill them on their investment process and style and assess their ability to outperform in differing economic environments. Our research feeds into the fund selection for Viewpoint and our award-winning VT Chelsea Managed funds, but we thought it would be useful to share some of it with our investors.

Fund Review covers more than 200 of our most widely-held funds, grouped into sectors. If you are unsure about which sector a fund lies within, there is an index at the back. We hope you find Fund Review informative and helpful.

CHELSEA GENERIC FUND RATING

Please note that we have no knowledge of your personal and financial circumstances and cannot comment on whether the investments you may hold are suitable for you. The generic ratings issued are Chelsea's views and do not constitute personal advice. These views were correct at time of going to print and we cannot be held responsible for subsequent changes.

BUY

This indicates a generic, not personal, buy rating for the fund. Chelsea believes the fund could perform above the sector average and that the fund has been, and will continue to be, managed well by the current fund manager. A buy rating is not to be considered as advice on which sector to invest in, nor an indication that funds in that sector are currently performing well.

HOLD

This indicates a generic, not personal, hold rating for the fund. The fund could have recently had a change of fund manager and is under review. If the fund has not been performing well recently, Chelsea believes the current fund manager will be able to improve the fund's performance over the long term or their style or investment approach could come back into favour.

SWITCH

This indicates a generic, not personal, switch rating for the fund. Chelsea believes that the fund will not perform well in the future and that other funds in its sector will perform better. This could be because of consistently poor past performance and there are no good reasons to believe performance will turn around or because there has been a recent change of fund manager, in whom the team have no confidence.

CHELSEA RISK RATING

Chelsea's research team assesses the overall risk of a fund by analysing a number of factors. Once we have appraised a fund, we then assign it a Chelsea Risk Rating, with 1 as the lowest risk and 10 the highest. The Chelsea Risk Rating is simply a generic guide to the relative risk of funds. It is up to you to determine your optimum asset class mix. The Chelsea Risk Rating is shown in the form of a thermometer and is based on our in-house research.

The Chelsea Risk Rating attempts to quantify the relative risk of funds, to give you an idea of how risky one fund is versus another. A fund rated five, in the middle spectrum, does not mean it is suitable for medium-risk investors, merely that according to historic volatility, and our understanding of the manager's investment process, we think that it is riskier than a fund rated four, and less risky than a fund rated six. Even funds rated one are subject to risk.

AMC X.XX%

The Annual Management Charge (AMC) is paid to a fund management company for managing the fund. It is calculated as a percentage of the value of the fund. The Annual Management Charge is less than the Ongoing Charges Figure (OCF).

OCF Y.YY%

Ongoing Charges Figure, includes the AMC plus other fees, such as registration, regulatory, audit and legal fees but does not include transaction costs and performance fees.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

The Chelsea Generic Fund Rating is an opinion expressed in relation to a particular fund, aimed at the general universe of both existing and potential investors in that fund, based on our proprietary research into the performance of that fund and its future prospects. Chelsea Financial Services is authorised and regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority and offers an execution-only service. Past performance is not a reliable guide to future returns, and you may get back less than you invest. Published yields are historic and will vary over time. This means that income you may receive is variable, could be reduced and is not guaranteed. Tax treatment depends on your individual circumstances and may be subject to change. Whilst we may draw attention to certain investment products, we cannot know which of them, if any, is best for your particular circumstances and must leave that judgement to you. The aims and risks of each fund are different and are described in the fact sheets and key investor information documents that you must read carefully before you decide to invest. MARKET VIEW

Rate cuts, resiliency and risk appetite

They say the best things in life are worth waiting for - but in reality it is never that easy! The first half of 2024 has been trying for investors from a macroeconomic perspective, despite most markets producing a positive return.

The global economy has been dominated by two major themes – monetary policy and growing geopolitical unrest. The former holds major sway over markets as we await a clear path to follow on potential interest rate cuts.

This challenge is exacerbated by central banks not being completely reliable, as evidenced by the US Federal Reserve U-turn in December 2023 (when it announced it was looking at scaling back its policy tightening/rate-hiking approach). It was thought that rate cuts might come in the first quarter of this year; we are now at the start of the third quarter and the Fed is still maintaining reticence within their rhetoric around when they will begin.

Inflation has been stickier than expected. At the start of the year, the market was pricing in the Fed to cut rates seven times in 2024 – I expect we may see one or two at best now. It is true that inflation has fallen to a much more manageable level though, with Europe already cutting rates, while the UK is likely to hold out a little longer following the UK general election. But I'd stress that this is as of writing; rate cuts are expected but not guaranteed.

Meanwhile, geopolitical tensions continue to rise. Russia's invasion of Ukraine shows no sign of coming to an end, while recent tensions between Israel and Iran saw the oil price spike before settling down.

Resilient equity markets

Having risen almost 12% in the first half of the year*, performance of global equities has been strong. Many of the Magnificent Seven stocks which were reaping major rewards from the growing influence of artificial intelligence (AI) in 2023 have continued their strong performance. But it is one stock in particular (Nvidia) which has stolen the headlines and major growth, to the point where it replaced Microsoft as the largest company in the world. Two pharmaceutical companies, Eli

Lilly and Novo Nordisk, have also been big winners, having led the weightloss revolution with a new class of drug known as GLP-1. Broadly market leadership remains narrow, with a handful of companies driving returns.

From a regional perspective, the US (15.3%)* continues to make strides. The UK still looks incredibly cheap, particularly in unloved smaller companies. Although, interest is starting to grow, highlighted by the increased mergers & acquisitions (M&A) we are seeing from private equity businesses.

I've discussed the opportunity within fixed income in my previous update, but with rate cuts yet to take place the window is still open for investors. The potential for rate cuts would have opened the door for capital appreciation, but there is still no clarity.

What impact does this have for corporate bonds? Well, the performance of corporate bonds has two main influences: the government bond yield and the credit spread. The more credit risk in a bond, the more important the macroeconomic environment, while the value of investment grade corporate bonds, which have less credit risk, will be more influenced by the government bond yield.

Credit spreads have continued to tick marginally lower in 2024 as it has become increasingly clear that the major economies will experience a soft landing (avoid a deep recession).

The final area I want to touch upon is commodities. Demand for the likes of copper has reached record highs. The energy transition to a lower carbon world cannot happen without an increased use of metals – the likes of electric vehicles are dependent on this (all electrification needs mining). We also need to consider the importance of metals for the likes of Al. Al can't commodities commodities and if you want more Al you need more data centres (computing power) and that requires more commodities.

There are opportunities across a number of asset classes, but balance remains the most important thing. Despite all the doom and gloom, markets have shown tremendous resilience, so my message would be that being too cautious also carries great risk, as those who chose not to invest so far in 2024 have already found out.

ARTEMIS SMARTGARP UK EQUITY Managed by Philip Wolstencroft

This is a portfolio of 70-100 stocks which invests predominantly in UK equities, regardless of size. Philip has managed the fund since 2010 and is also the creator of SmartGARP®, a stock-screening tool behind a number of funds at Artemis, looking at a combination of factors, such as company valuations, how fast they are growing and whether they are beating expectations or suffering profit warnings. The typical characteristics of the portfolio would be to target stocks that are on lower valuations than the market but are also growing faster than the market average. SmartGARP® is quite a stylistic process, so tends to work well when markets are trending but can struggle at times. However, this fund has sustained excellent long-term performance

ARTEMIS UK SELECT Managed by Ed Legget, Ambrose Faulks

This fund is a concentrated portfolio of the best 40-50 stocks found by Ed and Ambrose, as they aim to combine top-down macroeconomic views with fundamental bottom-up analysis. The fund has a multi-cap approach and targets individual stocks for which managers believe they have a non-consensus insight. This means the fund will never hold a stock just because it represents a significant proportion of its benchmark. In addition to this, the fund also has the ability to hold short positions in selected holdings where the managers believe a company may have negative prospects and can consequently make money from a falling share price. Ed and Ambrose have an excellent long-term and short-term track record.

ARTEMIS UK SPECIAL SITUATIONS Managed by Andy Gray, Henry Flockhart

This fund invests in companies that are in recovery, need re-financing or are suffering from investor indifference. The managers view 'problem investments' as potential opportunities to find hidden value. The fund typically invests in 60-70 stocks, with the managers favouring small and medium-sized companies, due to the fact they are not as widely researched - meaning there is more chance of finding that hidden value. Meeting company management is a crucial element of the investment process. The fund's value style had led to many years of difficult performance, but this has improved, with the fund recovering much of its underperformance. Andy Gray has been managing the fund since 2014, with fellow manager Henry Flockhart joining in July 2022, prior to former manager Derek Stuart's departure at the end of 2023.

Adam and David took on management of this fund in April 2024 from former manager Roland Arnold. The managers primarily look for two types of stocks in this concentrated fund; those exhibiting structural growth, such as through disrupting an industry, or those which have a competitive advantage and so are able to maintain their position of strength. While the managers invest mostly in the UK, they will have up to 20% of the portfolio in overseas companies if the best opportunities lie outside the UK stock market. Tim Lucas took over management of this fund in May 2024, after the departure of Louise Kernohan and Georgina Cooper. The portfolio predominantly invests in larger UK-listed companies which are leaders in their industries and can offer higher growth than the market. This has led to outperformance coming in falling markets where their holdings can consolidate their positions. This profile led to an underperformance in the market recovery, and the fund is still struggling. The fund also invests a small proportion overseas, which is a differentiator from many peers. This fund's philosophy is all about investing in quality. Co-managers Hugh and Chris, along with deputy manager Ben Peters, believe the market overobsesses with short-term factors and under-rates quality as a result. They invest in high-return, capital-light businesses. Capital intensive parts of the market, such as oil and gas or mining, are completely ignored. Hugh, Chris and Ben also dislike excessive debt and the fund has very little in financials. These strict requirements result in a small investment universe of only 80 stocks from which the managers create a concentrated portfolio of 40 holdings. This is a stock-picking fund focusing on fundamental company research. The fund is well diversified, with around 150 stocks to minimise risk. Relatively small positions are taken initially and the managers will then run the winners aggressively, adding to them as their story unfolds. Conversely, losers will be cut quickly. The fund has evolved as it has grown over the years and now invests in both small and medium-sized companies. As such, the fund moved to the All Companies sector, although it did so with spectacularly bad timing just as mid and smaller-cap companies began underperforming heavily relative to the large FTSE 100 names. Therefore, whilst recent performance has certainly been disappointing, it is not an entirely fair reflection. Long-term performance remains excellent. It has been an especially difficult time for mid and smaller-cap companies but we are confident this fund can perform again when they come back into fashion.

This fund was formerly known as Invesco ÜK Growth. Martin uses a bottom-up, valuation-driven approach to build a portfolio of 50-60 stocks. The portfolio has a large-cap bias and the manager often takes a contrarian view to stock selection. Martin focuses on three areas when determining stock selection. He will consider the structure of the industry and the specific company's position in it; he will use his top-down views to shift the portfolio towards certain sectors; and he focuses on stock market issues, such as company valuations. JANUS HENDERSON UK ALPHA Managed by Neil Hermon, Indriatti Van Hien

This is a high-conviction fund with a bias towards high quality, cash-generative companies in a growth phase. Neil and Indriatti can invest in companies of any size, although they may have a bias towards medium-sized businesses. This is because this area of the UK stock market has historically seen above average earnings growth, companies with decent levels of cash generation and a high incidence of merger and acquisition activity. They look for management teams that are willing to invest capital back into the business in a sensible and consistent manner, and pay close attention to make sure they are not overpaying for a company's growth potential.

SCHRODER RECOVERY Managed by Nick Kirrage, Andrew Lyddon

Long-standing manager Kevin Murphy has left Schroders and Nick Kirrage has replaced him as co-manager of the fund, a role he held previously, from 2006 to 2022, before moving to focus on Schroder's global mandates. Nick and Andrew will look for unloved stocks trading on low prices in this unashamed value fund. To find these, the team will perform in-depth analysis on a company's financial statement, looking to answer seven key questions, ranging from how a company turns profits into cash, to how well it can manage its debt levels. The team do not meet company management, instead they focus purely on the fundamentals and stock valuation. They are therefore willing to be very patient before buying a stock.

SCHRODER UK ALPHA PLUS Managed by Bill Casey, Nick Kissack

Bill and Nick have run this fund since 2018. Since doing so, they have altered the style from 'value' to 'quality at a reasonable price', and the portfolio is more concentrated. There is still a value influence, exploiting the impatience of market participants who have a tendency to ignore the long-term view. This provides buying opportunities. Valuations are cash-flow centred - an absolute measure of valuation. The managers are looking for stocks with differentiated franchises and the fund has approximately 40 holdings. Following a period of prolonged underperformance, we have downgraded this fund to Switch.

SLATER GROWTH Managed by Mark Slater

The strategy of this fund is based around having a margin of safety: robust balance sheets and strong cash flows are highly desirable. However, the most important metric they use is the 'PEG' ratio. This ratio looks at a stock's growth rate compared to its valuation. Mark and his team will run a number of quantitative screens to throw up ideas. They will then undertake detailed fundamental analysis on individual companies. This fund typically has a large bias in favour of mid and small-cap stocks. Performance has struggled a bit in the past couple of years, but over the longer term Mark has proven himself to be one of the UK's top fund managers.

TROJAN INCOME Managed by Blake Hutchins, Fergus McCorkell

Blake Hutchins is now the lead manager of this fund and he is supported by Fergus McCorkell as deputy manager. The fund focuses on preserving investors' capital. It invests in 30-50 high-quality, defensive blue chip stocks, which pay steady streams of income. The fund can invest outside the UK if the team finds stronger alternatives. It aims to provide an attractive dividend payout with the potential for capital growth, and has an excellent track record of outperforming falling markets, but it does typically struggle to keep up when markets rise quickly.

This highly concentrated fund will hold between 20 and 35 stocks and usually has more than 70% of its value in its top 10 holdings. Manager Nick will only ever invest in the highest quality companies available – often with a bias towards large-caps with strong branding power - and is unafraid to avoid entire sectors. This means the fund is highly differentiated from its FTSE All-Share benchmark. Nick will hold his stocks for several years and rarely trades. The fund has some freedom to invest overseas.

ABRDN UK INCOME EQUITY Managed by Charles Luke

Managed by Charles Luke since 2016, the team seek resilient, high-quality companies with durable income and strong capital growth prospects. They believe the market often systematically underestimates the sustainability of returns from high-quality companies. The fund has the ability to invest up to 20% overseas, which has helped them benefit from holdings such as Novo Nordisk. They maintain a healthy exposure to mid-cap companies, with the team taking care to diversify their capital and income exposure across sectors.

Tom's approach is very different from many of his peers in the sector. Rather than turn to the steady, dividend-paying mega-caps that make up large chunks of the FTSE 100, he is unafraid to look further down the market-cap spectrum and hunt out the income-paying stocks which have been overlooked by other investors, and which have the potential to grow their dividends. We like Tom's focus on the yield of the future, not the income today, but the past few years' performance has been disappointing. Despite the fund's dividend growth objective, it has struggled to deliver reliable dividend growth in recent years. The fund's high OCF is out of line with most of its peers.

Their objective is to achieve a yield in excess of 100% of the FTSE All Share yield at the fund's year end, on a rolling three-year basis and in excess of 90% on an annual basis. Around 50% of the portfolio invests in FTSE100 and FTSE250 companies, with the remainder mostly in AlM and small-cap companies. FIDELITY ENHANCED INCOME Managed by Rupert Henry Gifford, David Jehan

Rupert runs this fund in a conservative manner by aiming for 'safety of income at a reasonable price', mostly through investing in solid, blue-chip, dividend-paying companies, where there is a high degree of certainty in future income. It aims to provide a much higher income than most other equity income funds. David is responsible for this and achieves it by using covered call-options: contracts that provide additional income, but which mean foregoing some of the potential growth of a stock. It will lag strongly-rising markets, but should fall a bit less when there is a downturn. While performance has improved, due to a strong value tailwind, there are other valued-oriented funds we prefer in this space.

IFSL MARLBOROUGH MULTI CAP INCOME Managed by Siddarth Chand Lall

This fund invests mostly in small and medium-sized companies, as manager Siddarth believes smaller companies will outperform in the long run. The portfolio is highly-diversified and will hold more than 100 stocks at any one time. Siddarth sources ideas from the team and a network of brokers, studying financial statements and using models to test the sustainability of dividend payments. He and his team constantly reassess these holdings and aren't afraid to sell when they see potential dividend cuts on the horizon. They also prioritise meeting each company management team on a regular basis. Performance has been unreliable and the fund has underperformed a number of other multi-cap income funds.

JOHCM UK EQUITY INCOME* Managed by James Lowen, Clive Beagles

Managers James and Clive have a strict focus on each holding's yield: every single stock in the portfolio requires a higher prospective yield than that of the FTSE All Share index. Their approach leads them to consider a greater proportion of small and medium-sized companies than many of their peers. Looking to buy companies when prices are depressed also gives them a natural contrarian approach, as they often invest in unfashionable areas of the market. This tends to mean the fund is more volatile than its peers, and whilst the fund struggled in the Covid-19 sell-off, it has recovered all of this underperformance as value stocks have come back into favour.

Fund manager Emma Mogford, supported by assistant fund manager Mahgul Ansari, constructs the portfolio with valuation at the heart of their mandate to generate monthly income. This high-conviction portfolio utilises a bottom-up approach to help identify attractive companies that exhibit quality characteristics. The fund has one of the best – if not the best – track records among open-ended funds for paying dividends. Carl maintains a concentrated portfolio of between 30 and 50 holdings, all of which are chosen for their high quality and visibility of earnings. Carl is somewhat of a contrarian investor, so the fund may lag behind while his peers 'catch up with the news'. ROYAL LONDON UK EQUITY INCOME Managed by Richard Marwood, Joe Walters

Richard Marwood took over this fund as lead manager in May 2021. He is highly experienced with over 20 years' investing experience. He was joined by deputy manager Joe Walters in April 2024. The fund is high-conviction with around 50 holdings and a large portion of the fund is usually invested in mid-cap stocks. The economic and political environment are important factors which inform the manager's view, but it is stock selection that drives weightings to different sectors. Fund performance has been solid since Richard took over.

SCHRODER INCOME Managed by Nick Kirrage, Andrew Evans

This concentrated, deep value fund looks outside the traditionally 'safe' stocks which most other income-focused funds will hold. Kevin and Andrew have a very strict valuation discipline and decide whether a company's fundamentals are more attractive than the market has priced them to be. They tend to hold larger companies, although their portfolio is usually very differently positioned from its FTSE All Share benchmark. It is one of the few income funds that has a true value style. ABRDN UK SMALLER COMPANIES Managed by Abby Glennie, Amanda Yeaman

This fund is managed by Abby Glennie, as lead manager, and Amanda Yeaman, as deputy manager. The fund's focus is on stock selection, utilising a growth and momentum approach. It aims to identify companies that display a range of high-quality characteristics that operate in growing markets and display positive business momentum. Performance has been mixed, in part due to UK smaller companies struggling in recent years, and we have downgraded it to a Switch.

ARTEMIS UK SMALLER COMPANIES Managed by Mark Niznik, William Tamworth

Mark and William focus on high-quality companies, which they believe are leaders in their respective fields and have low levels of debt. The fund usually comprises between 70-80 stocks, with the managers targeting the bottom 10% of the UK market by size. This gives them a universe of about 1,300 companies, worth up to £1.5bn, from which to select. The portfolio, which has low turnover, has an informal limit of 3% for the largest holding and the managers will generally trim that holding if it goes past that point, regardless of the valuation of that company. The fund has performed well recently as its value style has come back into favour.

AXA FRAMLINGTON UK SMALLER COMPANIES Managed by Dan Harlow, Chris St John

Like other AXA Framlington funds, lead manager Dan follows a Growth at Reasonable Price (GARP) investment approach. His best ideas come from where potential good news is not reflected in a stock's share price. Lead manager Jonathan has run the fund since 2013, two years after its launch. This is an out-and-out value fund, with the manager focusing on out-of-favour companies that have gone through a period of underperformance but where there are unrecognised growth opportunities. He finds many candidates in the smaller companies space, where a combination of lack of research and market scepticism can leave many companies trading below their true value. Jonathan places a strong emphasis on understanding the downside risk of each potential investment. He chooses stocks where the potential for future upside in the price far exceeds the prospect of further declines. The fund will invest at least 60% in smaller-sized UK companies. The fund has a natural value tilt and has rewarded investors with excellent long-term performance.

This fund is similar to the Marlborough Special Situations fund and run by the same managers with the same focus. The main difference being that it invests further down the market-cap spectrum. The managers do many company meetings and undertake detailed analysis of potential stocks. This portfolio typically holds around 200 companies to reduce stock-specific risk. The fund manager focuses on identifying quality businesses with strong balance sheets, which he deems to be capable of self-help, rather than being overly reliant on the wider economy to stimulate growth. Jonathan, who is supported on the fund by deputy manager Robin West and the UK equities team, has taken a cautious approach to the UK market, but believes there remain numerous opportunities to invest in resilient companies to sustainably generate profitable growth.

He avoids companies with risky financing strategies and over-heating sectors where firms' earnings are being eaten away by high levels of competition. Scarcity in the value of a business idea is critical to his selection. Scarce value weathers economic cycles and commands pricing power, reaping healthy profit margins that can then be reinvested for growth. ARTEMIS SMARTGARP EUROPEAN EQUITY Managed by Philip Wolstencroft

This is one of a number of funds at Artemis which uses its proprietary investment tool SmartGARP®. It screens the market for European companies with the most attractive financial characteristics. It also helps to promote timely and objective decision-making. Philip predominantly invests in attractively- valued growth companies across continental Europe, though the fund can invest in businesses listed in other countries, including the UK, to a lesser extent. The portfolio does not have a specific country or sector bias, but traditionally has a strong tilt towards value stocks, with the manager looking specifically for cheaper stocks with good news flow. SmartGARP® is quite a stylistic process, so tends to work well when markets are trending but can struggle at inflection points.

BLACKROCK CONTINENTAL EUROPEAN Managed by Giles Rothbarth, Stefan Gries

Giles and Stefan are supported by a large and very well-resourced European research team, which has a large number of portfolio managers and sector analysts covering all market areas. The primary emphasis is on investing in businesses with high and predictable returns with strong cash conversion. As a result, the fund typically has a bias to quality growth stocks. Ideas are generated from screens, team analysts and external research. The final portfolio is usually between 35 and 65 stocks, which tend to be large-cap. Performance has been consistently good over the long and short term.

Andreas and Brian identify undervalued stocks that offer sustainable dividends, potential dividend growth and inflation protection. They work with the 21-strong European equity team to undertake individual stock analysis, looking for companies with good management, a strong competitive position and good financial discipline. Before taking over sole charge of the fund in January 2020, after Alister Hibbert stepped down as lead manager, Giles had worked with Alister for over a decade and co-managed the fund with him since 2015. The process is highly intricate and in-depth, with numerous steps including external and in-house screening tools, as well as producing weekly data packs on company fundamentals, sectors, countries, volatility and commodities. This is made possible through BlackRock's extensive European research team, which has a large number of portfolio managers and sector analysts covering all market areas. The result is a fairly concentrated portfolio of between 35 and 65 stocks. The fund has a completely flexible investment style which has produced good returns over the long term.

Sam has run this fund for almost a decade now (supported by deputy manager Marcel Stotzel) and aims to identify attractively-valued companies that exhibit good long-term structural growth prospects and that he believes can grow their dividends over the next three to five years. In order to identify them, Sam looks for four main characteristics: positive fundamentals (structural growth prospects, a proven business model, disciplined use of capital); the ability to generate cash; a strong balance sheet; and an attractive valuation. David has totally reformed this fund since he took over as primary manager in 2013. He focuses on the fundamentals of individual companies, rather than making calls on particular countries or sectors. Whilst the name of the fund is multi-cap, David finds many of his best ideas in the micro-cap and small-cap parts of the market. The fund has a bias to growth but it is also disciplined when it comes to valuation. Initial positions are no more than 2% of the fund and it is well diversified with around 110 holdings. We think David is a top stock-picker who can continue to deliver. This fund was previously known as Marlborough European Multi Cap.

INVESCO EUROPEAN EQUITY (UK) Managed by James Rutland, John Surplice

The fund is run by John Surplice and James Rutland who took over in March 2020. The managers use a blend of top-down analysis and bottom-up fundamentals to judge the best companies, which are set to benefit from both a price re-rating and macroeconomic tailwinds over the next three years or so. This fund has a strict valuation discipline and this has been a severe headwind in recent years as the fund's style has been out of favour. However, the fund has performed better recently as the value style has bounced back.

JANUS HENDERSON EUROPEAN MID AND LARGE CAP Managed by Marc Schartz

This fund has recently been renamed to reflect the mid and large-cap approach of the strategy. Marc has been a portfolio manager on Janus Henderson's European Equities Team since 2017. When positioning the portfolio, he focuses on each stock's absolute valuation, rather than how expensive it is compared to an index or to its peers. To determine whether or not a stock is attractively priced without using a point of comparison, he focuses on whether it's a good business, has a favourable financial model, is well-managed and has a track record of treating minority shareholders well. He also has a keen focus on finding companies which can survive economic downturns. The fund will typically hold between 40 and 60 stocks at any one time. The fund was previously called Janus Henderson European Growth.

Following her appointment as co-manager in December 2019, Mine Tezgul has now stepped up to take full management duties. The fund works on the belief that smaller companies in Europe are often under appreciated by the market. Mine seeks to capitalize on this by using a top-down approach in which she combines an assessment of the macroeconomic environment with Porter's Five Forces. This identifies companies with dominant market positions which enables them to utilise pricing power to their advantage. She believes that a mixture of these factors gives these businesses the ability to achieve sustained growth. The fund will have between 70-100 holdings. While the fund only invests in stocks that yield, lead manager John focuses on dividend growth, rather than high-yielding stocks. The idea being that it will provide you with a growing income, rather than a high income. The US market generally doesn't yield as much as the UK, but because dividends are lower, dividend cuts are fewer and he has a large universe from which to select stocks. His stocks fall into three buckets: the largest bucket being quality companies with reliable growth (initial yield tends to be good, with steady upside); asset-backed cyclical companies (tend to have a lower initial yield but good potential) and structural growth stocks (again with a lower initial yield but strong growth potential).

PREMIER MITON US OPPORTUNITIES Managed by Nick Ford, Hugh Grieves

Hugh and Nick focus on companies which have a sustainable competitive advantage versus their peers. No matter whether the sector they operate in is very large or rather niche, it's about choosing the companies which are the best in their field. While they allocate a significant amount of their portfolio to small and medium-sized companies, they will avoid start-ups or immature businesses, focusing on company fundamentals such as good and growing turnover, a balance sheet with plenty of headroom and where valuation is not reflecting the company's prospects. The fund typically holds around 35-45 stocks. The process and strategy is well considered, with a methodical valuation discipline, however the fund's small- and mid-cap bias, and lack of large-caps, has hurt performance recently. Because the latter is less predictable, it will only account for less than 10% of the portfolio at any one time. It is one of the few funds in the sector to focus on mid-caps, and because of this bias, and a lack of large-caps, performance has recently been affected.

However this fund is also quite pragmatic - it is willing to buy more cyclical stocks such as miners. It is also not just a buy and hold strategy; when the facts change or better opportunities arise they will shift the portfolio. The fund has between 50 and 100 holdings and is typically very different to its benchmark. Long-term performance is excellent.

Zoe Kan has been managing this fund since 2016. She adopts an unconstrained approach and typically holds between 40-70 stocks with a focus on capturing real and sustainable income. The fund operates a research-driven, bottom-up investment process. It also has strict yield discipline and seeks to ensure the portfolio delivers a yield in excess of the FTSE AW Asia Pacific ex-Japan index. Any existing holding whose prospective yield falls below a 40% discount to the yield achieved on the comparative index will be sold. Teera is a quality growth investor, investing mainly in large-cap stocks. He has the support of Fidelity's large in-house research team, providing him with an edge in his bottom-up stock selection process, in a region that can be under-researched. Meeting management plays a key part in his decision making and he looks for companies trading below their intrinsic value, either because improving conditions are not reflected in the price, or the growth potential is not fully understood by the wider market. He looks for restructuring and turnaround opportunities, as well as cyclical turns in certain industries. The fund did struggle for a few years, both due to the style being out of favour and also due to stock-picking errors, but more recent performance has improved.

Singapore-based Anthony Srom manages this high-conviction fund of around 30 stocks. Anthony has a contrarian instinct and understanding other investors' sentiment is a key factor in his decision making. Stock selection is based on three factors: fundamentals; sentiment and valuation. Anthony carefully considers the prospects for different industries before making any investment. The portfolio is constructed to ensure good diversification, despite the small number of holdings in the portfolio. The fund invests across the market-cap spectrum but around two thirds of the holdings are in large caps. Anthony has delivered excellent long-term performance since the fund's launch in 2014 and it is one of our favourite funds in the sector.

Well-known Asian income manager Jason Pidcock combs the Asia Pacific market in search of large companies with reliable dividends that can deliver both income and growth for investors. The fund is not afraid to hold much more or less of certain countries than its benchmark. Most notably, Jason is currently not investing in China, given the geo-political tension, which is a huge underweight versus his peers and benchmark. Richard took on the role of lead manager in 2021 from long-standing manager Matthew Dobbs (who retired in early 2021), whom he worked alongside for many years, and has been joined by Abbas as assistant manager. Richard looks to exploit stockmarket inefficiencies, with a macroeconomic overlay, to build a concentrated portfolio of between 50-70 predominantly large-cap companies from the Asian region, drawing on ideas from Schroder's large, high quality in-house research team as well as brokers. The manager believes long-term returns are driven by valuation considerations, but he is willing to exploit other opportunities if the investment case is strong enough. The fund is unconstrained and Richard avoids taking very large positions in more volatile companies.

SCHRODER ASIAN INCOME Managed by Richard Sennitt

Richard focuses on companies which have been under-priced by the broader market because of short-term fears, but have attractive underlying fundamentals. Most of these stocks already have attractive yields at purchase, but Richard isn't afraid to buy stocks which he thinks are dividend stars of the future. Its income-seeking mandate means it tends to be less volatile than many of its peers, however it does lead the fund to lag growth markets, which are often led by the technology names which rarely yield attractive dividends.

M&G Japan invests in Japanese firms of any size, with a bias towards small and mid-caps. The managers, Carl Vine and David Perrett, who have worked together for many years, concentrate their efforts on really getting under the skin of the businesses they look at, which adds value in an esoteric market like Japan, and leads to a concentrated portfolio of companies (typically fewer than 50 holdings) of which they have a real in-depth understanding. Raheel Altaf has been managing this fund since April 2022, previously as a co-manager with Peter Saacke, who retired in June 2024. This fund uses Artemis's proprietary investment tool, SmartGARP®, to invest in a diversified portfolio, principally from developed markets. The in-house software screens 6,000 listed global equities which the manager deems easy enough to buy and sell for a fund of this size. The screening tool specifically searches for companies which are cheaper than the market, have the potential to grow faster and, crucially, have a catalyst which may convert an undeveloped situation into a higher share price. Before investing, the manager will carry out research to ensure the investment case behind the SmartGARP® recommendation is valid. The portfolio typically has a mix of large and mid-cap stocks. This fund was previously known as Artemis Global Growth.

This fund invests in global smaller companies with very high growth prospects. Douglas focuses on businesses which are highly innovative and capable of changing the world in some way; this means the fund tends to have significant weightings in the technology and healthcare sectors. As such, it is positioned very differently from its peers and can be more volatile, so is not for the faint-hearted. Over the past three years this fund has had an extremely difficult time, as both smaller companies and growth investing have gone heavily out of favour. In light of this underperformance, they have spent time analysing their investment process, with the aid of the risk team, and have made some adjustments. As a result, they now have fewer holdings, selling out earlier if stocks don't perform. Also when stocks outperform, they will trim back sooner, so that positions don't get too big.

JUPITER FUND OF INVESTMENT TRUSTS Managed by Richard Curling

Richard aims to achieve long-term capital growth by investing principally in investment trusts and other closed-ended investment companies listed on the London Stock Exchange. The fund is both high conviction and global in nature and typically comprises 50-60 stocks. The fund targets anomalies and exploits opportunities within the sector by focusing on discounts, management capabilities, corporate actions and capital structure. The fund does not focus purely on trusts investing in stocks and shares but also in some 'alternative' areas where private investors might find it difficult to get exposure - for example trusts not listed on the stock exchange or frontier markets.

Abbie has been the manager of this fund since its inception in April 2018, having joined Jupiter in 2006. The fund is an unconstrained, high-conviction, global equity strategy which invests in companies leading the transition to a more sustainable world. The outcome of the investment process is a portfolio that is aligned with three key frameworks: the UN Sustainability Development Goals, the UN Global Compact and aligned with Net Zero as set out by the Paris Agreement. LINDSELL TRAIN GLOBAL EQUITY Managed by Michael Lindsell, Nick Train, James Bullock

Managed by the co-founders of the business, Michael Lindsell and Nick Train, they run this highly concentrated portfolio of 25-30 global equity stocks, with the help of co-manager James Bullock. Nick and Michael recently committed to work for another seven more years. The fund has a bias towards developed countries and the managers focus on 'exceptional' businesses they believe have sustainable models and/or established resonant brands. They find most of their opportunities in consumer branded goods; internet, media and software; pharmaceuticals and financials. Turnover is typically very low and the portfolio will look very different from its benchmark. The fund has an excellent long-term track record.

M&G GLOBAL THEMES Managed by Alex Araujo

Following a turbulent period, with four managers in six years, Alex Araujo took over this fund in January 2019, which was previously known as M&G Global Basics. As part of the change, the fund revised its investment approach. Under Alex, who also runs the M&G Listed Infrastructure fund, this fund will invest in four structural trends: demographics; environment; infrastructure and innovation. It will also have environmental, social and governance factors (ESG) integrated into the investment process.

NINETY ONE GLOBAL FRANCHISE Managed by Clyde Rossouw, Abrie Pretorious, Elias Erickson, Paul Vincent

With this fund, the managers believe few companies can compound investor wealth above the market over the long term and they build a concentrated portfolio of 25-40 of them. They will be high quality – demonstrated by their good balance sheets and dominant positions in their industries – but still be attractively valued and well run. These companies will be identified through bottom up, fundamental analysis and will naturally tilt towards consumer staples, healthcare and IT companies. The managers expect these companies will show immunity to economic cycles and can perform regardless of the outlook. Clyde has been managing the fund since October 2012 and he was joined by co-managers Elias, Paul and Abrie in April 2024.

RATHBONE GLOBAL OPPORTUNITIES Managed by James Thomson, Sammy Dow

James, with the support of assistant fund manager Sammy Dow, looks for innovative growth companies of all shapes and sizes: these should be differentiated, scalable and have sustainable growth, while shaking up their industries. There are no restraints on geography or sector, but James tends to have a bias towards mid-sized companies in developed markets, which he describes as his sweet spot. He usually avoids companies in emerging markets, only investing in them if he has extremely strong conviction. The fund is a concentrated portfolio of 40 to 60 holdings and has a defensive bucket of holdings that are less economically sensitive, with slower and steadier growth prospects, for risk management purposes. We have supported this fund for many years and James has always delivered good long-term performance.

Manager David Eiswert, with the assistance of a considerable analyst resource spread globally, builds a portfolio based on key themes. They look for companies which are improving, seeking those with the potential for above average and sustainable rates of earnings growth. As a former tech manager, David finds opportunities in sectors such as IT, consumer discretionary and healthcare, but will be underweight in energy and materials.

This fund is truly global in nature, with Jacob and James building a portfolio of 60-90 stocks across more than 25 countries. The structure of the fund typically sees the managers hold a mixture of medium and large – rather than extra-large - companies, as these companies tend to offer greater potential for both income and capital growth. Companies are sourced by looking for high cash-flow, before the macroeconomic and sector outlook is analysed. After a few years of underperformance, the fund has done well in recent years, and over the long term.

Dan has managed this fund since its launch in 2012. He is a chartered accountant and prefers simple understandable businesses with clear cash flows and strong balance sheets. This leads him to a natural bias against financial stocks which can be both complex and highly levered. Dan aims to build a portfolio which is more defensive than the market. We like his clear focus and his willingness to ignore parts of the market which do not meet his strict investment criteria. Since launch the fund's performance has been strong but, equally impressively, it has also been one of the least volatile in the sector.

This fund has a concentrated portfolio of 35 stocks, all of which are equally weighted to minimise stock-specific risk. This fund is quite different from its peers because Stuart is not afraid to have some commodity exposure. A portion of the fund is also invested in rapid growth businesses, which may have small starting dividends, but are growing quickly. We like the fund's focus on dividend growth and its willingness to venture away from the most obvious income stocks in search of a better return. Although this fund sits in the strategic bond sector, the core of this fund has always been its corporate bond holdings. It's a straightforward, bottom-up process, all about finding the best corporate bonds on a fundamental basis, whether they sit in the investment grade or high yield part of the market. One of the oldest bond funds in the UK, this vehicle leverages off macroeconomic research and bottom-up security selection of bonds of any quality and from any type of issuer to achieve the highest level of income possible. This also makes it higher risk. The wider remit means the managers aim to build a portfolio of high-yielding assets including corporate bonds, secured loans and preference shares, whilst keeping cash levels to a minimum. John and Jenna invest across the entire fixed income spectrum because they believe that different assets will outperform at varying times throughout the economic cycle. First, they analyse any long-term market trends, monetary policy conditions and where we are in the cycle. They then look at valuations to pinpoint the most attractive parts of the market, before undertaking rigorous fundamental research. They are able to invest up to 70% in high-yield bonds, 50% in convertible bonds, 30% in emerging market bonds, 50% in preference shares and 20% in equities, depending on their view of the world. The fund has struggled in recent years, and we have downgraded it to a Hold rating.

JUPITER STRATEGIC BOND Managed by Ariel Bezalel, Harry Richards

This is a flexible 'go anywhere' bond fund. Decisions are driven by the team's macroeconomic analysis of the world and Ariel is not afraid to make big changes to the portfolio. The fund also makes extensive use of derivatives, which enables flexibility. Unlike some peers this is a true strategic bond fund which will react to changing markets. The fund has historically been one of the least volatile in the sector but performance has been underwhelming and we have downgraded it to a Hold.

Richard starts by forming a macroeconomic overview based on his outlook for growth, inflation and interest rates. He can invest across the fixed income spectrum allowing him to express his views on the relative attractiveness of government and corporate bonds. A differentiating feature of this fund is its ability to invest across the capital structure. Richard can invest in a company's senior debt, subordinated debt or even equity, depending on which offers the best value. The strategy has been hugely popular and has grown in size (mirror funds of this strategy are also popular in Europe) which may make it harder to change the fund's positioning quickly.

Charismatic manager Richard 'Dickie' Hodges has a completely unconstrained approach, which he utilises to invest across the full range of bonds and derivatives available to him including government, corporate, emerging market and inflation-linked bonds. To build the portfolio he uses a blend of top-down analysis and bottom-up stock selection to build a portfolio capable of delivering both growth and income depending on market conditions. We are big fans of Dickie, and he has delivered good long-term performance, but short-term performance has suffered.

TwentyFour is a specialist bond company and well resourced, with experts in their field. This strategic bond fund can invest across the whole range of fixed income assets, which helps the team take advantage of changes in market conditions. It has a strong focus on both credit default and interest rate risk. The team's expertise enables them to look at lower-rated, higher-yielding bonds, as well as other parts of the market that other investors tend to ignore, such as subordinated financial debt and asset-backed securities. It is usually one of the higher-yielding funds within its sector. The fund, and its performance, can be a little more volatile than its peers.

TECHNOLOGY & TECHNOLOGY INNOVATION

AXA FRAMLINGTON GLOBAL TECHNOLOGY Managed by Jeremy Gleeson, Tom Riley

Long-standing fund manager Jeremy Gleeson will be stepping down from the fund in August 2024, leaving Tom Riley as lead manager, supported by Brad Reynolds and Pauline Llandric. This is an unconstrained multi-cap fund that seeks growth from technology stocks from around the world. Its lack of benchmark constraints means it is free to invest in 'new technology' rather than 'old technology'. It is important in any fund to avoid the losers but no more so than in the technology sector. The fund enjoyed very strong performance over the years in Jeremy's experienced hands, and we are downgrading the fund to a Hold rating whilst we see how the new team get on.

This is one of the few specialist technology funds to have successfully navigated the dotcom bubble in 2000. Richard has been a fund manager on the fund since 2014 and was joined by fellow co-managers Aliston Porter and Graeme Clark in 2017. The investment philosophy has remained consistent, with the fund retaining a bias towards larger companies. The holdings are heavily skewed towards the US given it is the hub of the technology industry. The trio focus on bottom-up analysis of potential investments, but also identify long-term industry themes and target companies poised to benefit from them. They also make opportunistic stock selections in the small-cap market.

The fund is managed by a highly experienced team of seven technology experts, who travel around the world to seek out the next generation of technology winners. The team identify sustainable secular growth trends, attempting to predict changes in behaviour. For instance, smartphones are a mature market and thus no longer a theme, whereas cloud infrastructure remains in hyper-growth mode. They focus on simple business models, with strong management teams. They avoid 'blue sky' investments, preferring profitable growth companies with good balance sheet strength and pricing power. Their pragmatic approach and their portfolio diversification has worked well for the fund.

This fund was formerly known as Janus Henderson UK Absolute Return. This is a long/short fund which tries to make a return in all market conditions. YOUR CHELSEA RESEARCH TEAM

ADVISERS TO THE AWARD-WINNING VT CHELSEA MANAGED FUNDS.

DARIUS MCDERMOTTManaging Director

I joined Chelsea in 1996 so I've seen quite a lot of ups and downs in markets, from the euphoria of the tech bubble to the trauma of the financial crisis and, more recently, the unprecedented Covid crisis and associated market sell-off. So I bring a wealth of experience to the team. It's all too easy to get carried away with market noise, but being able to take a step back and put minor market blips into context is a big advantage.

JAMES YARDLEY, CFA Senior Research Analyst

I'm now in my tenth year at Chelsea. I have a passion for investing and improving financial education. I work on asset allocation, portfolio construction and fund selection. A natural worrier, I look for the worst parts of any investment to reveal the truth. I was awarded the Trailblazer accolade for conceiving, designing and helping to launch the VT Chelsea Managed fund range.

JULIET SCHOOLING LATTER Research Director

Like Darius, I've been at Chelsea for a great many years. Despite working together all this time, we often hold differing views and that can be very useful in tempering our own thoughts on markets. With a degree in economics, I like to look at the big picture and take a macroeconomic view on which markets look most interesting. I'm a contrarian at heart.

JOSS MURPHY Junior Research Analyst

I obtained a first-class MSc at Bayes Business School in 2021, having finished my bachelor's studies at Bristol University the previous year. I have obtained the IMC and completed CFA Level 1. My role comprises of fund research, producing daily valuations for the fund range and interviewing managers of funds amongst other responsibilities.

I am a natural contrarian who seeks to find value opportunities when negative sentiment has resulted in assets becoming oversold.
